

SOYBEAN PROCESSING

The CGB Soybean Plant was built in 1997 in Mt. Vernon, Indiana, as an expansion through vertical integration, to supply the demands of agribusiness customers in a variety of areas. Customers include feed mills, poultry manufacturers and hog farmers or anyone interested in purchasing wholesale soybean products.

The plant is located on the Ohio River in the Port of Indiana at Mt. Vernon and is served by the EVWR railroad.

CGB customers demand competitive pricing and better service in this commodity business. Focusing on the customer's needs is what CGB does best.
